Introduction

Much of the JCR's business is concerned with the specific details of organising an activity. Most of the motions that come to the JCR are limited to this – they set out the case for donating some money to a cause, or supporting some campaign, or getting a JCR officer to research a possibility. There may be issues or procedures where the JCR may wish to make a more open-ended commitment. As a body of intelligent people, we are entitled to establish principles of action that will bind members in all their actions over a given period, rather than merely dictate a course of action for some very specific event. Indeed, such lasting principles are inevitable if we want to act consistently and to ensure that the will of the JCR means more than merely the personal prejudices of the JCR officer responsible. Establishing a JCR policy is the means by which such principles may be laid down.

Establishing Policy

Policy may be formed on any subject as long as it is in line with the current JCR Constitution, its Appendices and the Standing Orders (specifically no policy should contravene our constitutional commitment to not discriminate against any JCR Member on the basis of their sex, marital status, sexual orientation, racial group, religion, age or disability). To add or remove an item from the Policy book, a motion must be passed by the JCR subject to the requirements of the JCR Constitution and Standing Orders.

- To ensure that the JCR only asks for the gender of its members (In forms, for instance) when it is absolutely necessary, and that when it does so the field is write-in rather than the binary "Male/Female" gender box, or the excluding "Other/Prefer not to say";*
- To ensure that when the JCR specifies a dress code, it does not specify dress by gender;*
- To ensure that when the JCR holds gender-specific events, anyone who identifies as that gender is welcome without having their gender identity challenged;*
- To ensure that where there is gender-specific welfare, anyone who identifies as that gender is welcome without having their gender identity challenged;*
- To mandate the LGBTQ Representative to ensure that the above resolutions are followed;*
